Thite Marsh, Stillwater, and at discharged from service at Valed two and one half years. He clously served in the battle of mrty years. He moved to North County Tennessee, a short time that time as between sixty and d a family but gave no names, at home and was himself living utionary pension while living in a he was 76 years of age. He disted in the service in 1777 in aptain Downey. He substituted ac Wilson's company. He was Colonel Charles Robertson and ted for Adam Hall in Captain I Phifer's regiment and served plonel Holmes in the battle of King's Mountain. Captain John Reveland are mentioned in his leveland are mentioned in his

HOOD

NDSAY

d for pension for revolutionary County, Tenn., August 28, 1832, He was born in 1762 in Fred-He was born in 1762 in Fred-in Newberry, South Carolina, he smith's South Carolina company, apany of Captain John Lindsay, r! July, 1780, again in Captain ohn Lyle's South Carolina regi-lusgrove's Mills, Fish Dam Ford, in the Siege of Ninety-six from ista and while there he was in lutaw Springs. He served until i in Newberry, South Carolina, ison County, Tennessee.

HIL MARTIN

Martin, applied for revolution-ne County, Tenn., in February, and therefore born in 1764. She in a North Carolina regiment and was in the battles of King's
She married Salathlel Martin

The Secretary of North Caroserved in the Revolution as a

JAMES MeBRIDE

James McBride applied for revolutionary pension while residing in Lincoln County, Tenn., in October, 1832. He was born in August, 1750, in County Down, Ireland, whence he emigrated to America settling first in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He moved to Guilford County, North Carolina, in 1771. He lived there until 1780 when he went to the Tennessee country. He resided principally in Williamson County but later lived in Lincoln County He enlisted in Guilford County, North Carolina, and served under Captain George Davidson and Colonel Francis Nash in the First North Carolina regiment. He was captured by the British but escaped.

WALLIAM MCFERRIN

Willium McFerrin applied for revolutionary pension while living in Tipton County, Tenn., in 1832. He was born agout 1757 and died in 1845. He enlisted in Virginia Troops in Augusta County, Virginia. where he then resided He moved to Tennessee after the Revolution. He married Jane Laughlin. Among their children were: Eleanor, who married Colin Campbell, and Rev. James McFerrin, born 1784, died 1840, who married in 1804 Jane Campbell Berry.

William McFerrin was living with Colin Campbell in 1832.

CAPTAIN DAVID MCNABB

Captain David McNabb's widow, Elizabeth McNabb, applied for revolutionary pension, based on his service, while she lived in Meigs County, Tennessee, in 1837, when she was 79 years of age. She died in Meigs Co. To June 20, 1847 beam MAATT Cambavid McNabb entered the service while living in Washington County, North Carolina, in the section which became Carter County, Tenn. He raised a company of mulitia in Washington County, in June, 1780, and was elected captain. He served in two tours one under Colonel Robinson and one under Colonel John Sevier and was engaged against the Indians. He assisted in the destruction of their towns. He served another tour of three months in 1781 under Colonel John Sevier during which his company marched into South Carolina and assisted in capturing a number of British soldiers. Captain McNabb returned to Washing ton County and continued to reside there until his death, May 3,

He married in the year 1778, Elizabeth Taylor. They were married by "Purson Crafium in the Stone Meeting House," in Augusta County, Virginia. They moved to Washington County to reside. She stated that her broher, Andrew Taylor, moved from Augusta County, to Washington County and resided near them Andrew Taylor was 76 years of age in 1837 when he resided in Washington County.

Note:- Captain McNabb's company marched to King's Mountain following the other Mountain men by twenty-four hours, it is said, and reached the site of the battle one hour after it was ended. Andrew Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor McNabb's brother, was a member of the well known Taylor family of Washington County. His and particles of the said that the said was Isaac Taylor. For this family see the Taylor Family of Tennessee, Lookout Publishing Company.

Elizabeth Taylors father was Andrew Toylor, Sr. her bother was Andrew. gr.

45512C